Foreword

In compiling The Conduit this year we have tried to be totally inclusive, but appreciate that some organisations may have been omitted and note that some societies have not been able to finalise their 2016-2017 programmes at the time of publication. In this case, readers are advised to consult the website of the relevant organisation.

Email and website addresses, where known, are included in The Conduit, and users of the online version can click on the relevant hyperlinks. It is also possible to click on one of the Section headings below and go straight to that Section. We hope you find this useful.

We aim to send The Conduit to every listed local society in Cambridgeshire, as well as to museums and other relevant organisations. If you belong to an organisation whose details are not included, or which would like to receive copies of The Conduit next year, please email the Editor, who will add your organisation's details to the next issue. Wherever possible the information has been checked by a responsible individual in the relevant organisation, and so should be up to date at the time of printing. Further details of the activities of listed organisations are often available on their websites.

This publication is intended as a work of reference both for members of Cambridge Antiquarian Society and by others who use it to inform themselves of events and activities of interest across our richly historical county. I would like to thank the editor of The Conduit, Simon Barlow of the Haddon Library, for his hard work in compiling and producing The Conduit this year

The Society was founded in 1840 to promote the study of history, architectural history and archaeology, and the conservation of relevant features and objects within the county of Cambridge. Membership benefits include a programme of early evening lectures once each month between October and May, day excursions led by experts, reduced entry to the spring conference and a free copy of the Society's journal, Proceedings of the Cambridge Antiquarian Society. Members may also request a free print copy of The Conduit.

Meetings: Lectures, (18:00 on Mondays), & conferences, (All day on Saturdays), are usually held in the Faculty of Law on the University of Cambridge's Sidgwick site, unless otherwise stated. There is plenty of free parking. Other events are held where notified.

Membership: Individual £20; Families and Affiliated Societies £20.

There is no charge for visitors or guests at lectures. New members are warmly welcomed.

Local Maps Research

In last year's Conduit, details were given of this important project to compile, under CAS auspices, an annotated carto-bibliography of printed maps of Cambridgeshire and its towns for the period c.1900-1970, whilst also extending the scope of Sir George Fordham's pioneering listings for the county published in PCAS in 1905 & 1908. Fordham's work may now be seen in the online version of PCAS.

Since then, our small but enthusiastic teams of volunteers have been active in:

- a) Analysing information on pre-1900 maps of the county, starting with those in CAS's own collection
- b) Carrying out similar work on post-1900 maps of both the county and the borough / city of Cambridge
- c) Investigating the resources held outside the Cambridgeshire Collection & Cambridgeshire Archives

The project is still at an early stage, but already many interesting discoveries have been made. Perhaps the most notable of these are the Ordnance Survey maps of Wisbech, annotated – when & by whom remains unclear – to show, (for example), the location of archaeological finds & old field names.

It is intended that detailed descriptions of map content & online versions of many of the maps themselves will, in due course, be made available on the new CAS website, (forthcoming). We already have a large number of high quality images & expect to take many more.

Further volunteers to join the team would be very welcome. All that is needed is an interest in maps and a working knowledge of the history & geography of the county. If you would like to be involved, please contact the co-coordinators of the project – Tony Kirby, akirby121@btinternet.com, & John Pickles, jdp1003@cam.ac.uk, who will be delighted to give further details of what is involved.

Small Grants Scheme

In recent years there has been an increase in voluntary activity within the fields of local archaeology and history, with new or existing groups expanding and their members making significant contributions to our understanding of Cambridgeshire's heritage. In support of this, CAS Council makes available the sum of £500 per annum to be disbursed in grants to assist projects on local archaeology and local history in Cambridgeshire, carried out on a voluntary basis by groups or individuals who are affiliated to or individual members of CAS. Grants may be made for purchasing materials or towards publication and/or presentation of results.

Applicants must supply a detailed description of intended or completed work, some indication of overall cost involved and what part would be financed by the CAS grant; the application will be assessed for its merits by the CAS Council. Although applications from all groups and individuals are welcome, those who have been successful one year will not usually be considered the following year.

The deadline for grant applications is 31st December each year and the successful applicant/s will be announced at the society's AGM in April and duly informed.

On completion of the project, a report of how the grant was used, the resulting work and/or the publication (if appropriate) must be forwarded to the Secretary of CAS

Applications should be made through the Society Secretary. Please email secretary@camantsoc.org.

Publications

In addition to copies of some issues of the Octavo, Proceedings, Miscellaneous & Quarto series of CAS publications, the following are also now available:

Leedham-Green, E.S. (ed). (1991). Religious dissent in East Anglia.
£8.00 if collected. £10.00 to include postage & packing.

Having been thought out-of-print, recent spring cleaning has located several copies of this work. The nine authors, who include Patrick Collinson, David Dymond & Elizabeth Bellamy, exhibit a variety of historical approaches to topics from the sixteenth to the twentieth centuries, including the Family of Love, Suffolk papists, Puritan preaching & Methodism. There are also summaries of unpublished papers given at the symposium on which the publication was based, ten figures or tables, a useful bibliography of printed sources for the history of Cambridgeshire dissent by Kenneth Parsons and an excellent index.

Thompson, M.W. (1990). The Cambridge Antiquarian Society 1840-1990.
£2.00 if collected. £3.50 to include postage & packing.

After his retirement, Dr. Michael Thompson served for several years on the Council of the Society – of which he became President. Whilst continuing his own researches, he found time to write this concise but informative & engaging history of the Society to mark its 150th anniversary. It contains, as one reviewer wrote, “much of note” for those intrigued by the development of archaeology, (Archaeological Journal 148, 1991, pp. 328-9), from the Victorian period through changes early in the last century until the time of writing when rescue archaeology & bureaucracy loomed large. Topics such as membership, meetings, activities, publications & collections, (the basis of Cambridge University Museum of Archaeology & Anthropology), are treated in a broadly chronological sequence. There are useful accounts of major figures connected to the Society as well as a full list of its tangled & copious publications and another list of its principal officers during the whole period.

For copies of the above and any other available publications, please email the Honorary Librarian, John Pickles, jdp1003@cam.ac.uk.

The Cambridgeshire Records Society was founded in 1972 by the Cambridge Antiquarian Society. Its purpose is to publish editions of original documents from the Middle Ages to the present relating to Cambridgeshire and the surrounding area in order to make them accessible to Cambridgeshire people interested in their local and family history, and to historians worldwide. The Society also republishes unavailable printed works and historical maps. The work of transcription, translation, and editing of texts and the preparation of volumes is done voluntarily by editors with expertise in the subject. The membership's annual subscriptions finance the costs of preparing and publishing the volumes. In some cases individual volumes have received grants towards costs.

The Society aims to publish a volume a year. Members receive a free copy of every work published during their period of membership.

Membership: The Society is open to all interested individuals, libraries, schools and other institutions at an annual subscription of £14 (£17.50 from January 2017). In addition to their free volume, members can purchase volumes at a member's price, usually two-thirds of the retail price.

The Society holds an annual meeting with a talk on a topic relating to the current publication or to local records and archives.

The Society has 22 publications in stock. See our website or Cambridgeshire Records Society on www.genfair.com. The latest volume, published in 2015, is The Ely Coucher Book Book, 1249–50: The Bishop of Ely's manors in the Cambridgeshire fenland, translated by Edward Miller, edited by Frances Willmoth and Susan Oosthuizen, ISBN 978 0 904323 24 5, Softback, 252 pages, Full price £37.50, CRS Member price £25

The Society also publishes three Cambridge map editions, (covering the city of Cambridge from the 16th to the early 20th century):

Baker's Map of Cambridge, 1830

A Portfolio of 12 maps illustrating the changing plan of Cambridge, 1574-1900

Reprint of the Ordnance Survey 1:500 Town Plans of Cambridge, 1886-1902

Volumes in preparation include:

Jonas Moore's Mapped of the Fennes, 1658 by Dr Frances Willmoth

Early Officers' Accounts of Trinity College Cambridge, 1547-1552 edited by Adam Green

Cambridgeshire Committee for Scandalous Ministers, 1644-45 edited by Graham Hart

We are a small group which has been undertaking geophysical surveys in Cambridgeshire for over 15 years, mostly in the south of the County. We use resistivity and magnetometry equipment for our surveys. We have been awarded two grants from the Heritage Lottery Fund to support our work and aim to be out surveying on most Sundays. We welcome new members to come along and join us. We also invite inquiries regarding possible new sites to investigate. Please visit our web site for more information.

The Cambridge Archaeological Unit was founded in 1990 by Christopher Evans and Dr Ian Hodder and operates out of the Department of Archaeology & Anthropology, University of Cambridge. On all types of projects the CAU offers a full range of archaeological services supported by the academic and scientific expertise of the University of Cambridge. Our pioneering landscape sampling techniques have proven successful on motorway, new town, quarry, and inner-city development sites, providing a highly efficient practice complementary to industry.

With the aim of bridging the research and commercial sectors the unit believes development of innovative techniques are crucial to maintaining the highest standards of both academic and professional practice. Our service is designed to fulfill all planning requirements from desktop assessment through to full excavation and publication. Our proven record of delivering results within an agreed time-scale and budget has enabled a continual growth into one of the leading archaeological contracting organisations in the United Kingdom.

The Group was formed in 1978 to enjoy practical archaeology and add to the local archaeological record. Activities include field-walking, surveying, some metal-detecting, excavating, landscape studies and finds processing. The Group also holds lectures and occasional workshops open to all. We are affiliated to the Cambridge Antiquarian Society, the Council for British Archaeology and Jigsaw Cambridgeshire. The full report on our HLF funded project on Wimpole is now complete and available.

Meetings: Lectures are held in the seminar room at the McDonald Institute for Archaeological Research, Downing Street, Cambridge from October to June, normally on the 1st Wednesday of the month, starting at 19:30.

12 Oct.	Dr. Robyn Veal	Provisioning the Roman villa – management of land resources to support urban and country villas in ancient Campania
02 Nov.	Ant Haskins	X4593 - The Holme Fen Spitfire
07 Dec.	Jonathan Tabor	Archaeology on the Addenbrooke's site
11 Jan.	TBC	TBC
03 May	Martin Davis	Landscapes

Details of the remainder of the programme will be available on our website.

On other Wednesday evenings throughout the year, unless we have an outdoor activity, we meet at the Oxford Archaeology East premises at Unit 15, Trafalgar Way, Bar Hill, from about 19:15, to process finds from our fieldwork. Occasional informal workshops are held on these Wednesdays.

From autumn to spring we are out field-walking, normally on Sunday mornings, within about 15 miles of Cambridge. In the summer we normally undertake a short-term excavation and organise other fieldwork as available. We have our own projects and will also undertake fieldwork at the request of other bodies.

Membership: £10 individual, £15 family. £1 non-members for lectures. Application forms and further details are available from the Secretary.

Val Whittaker Memorial Prize: The Group offers up to £150 each year to those (17 years old or above and normally Cambridgeshire-based) wanting to pursue their interest in archaeology. Applicants need to submit a report on their investigation into an aspect of archaeology. This may be a report prepared for a course of study. For further details please see our website.

The Cambridgeshire Historic Environment Record (CHER) is the most comprehensive source of information on archaeological sites and finds in the modern county of Cambridgeshire. It forms part of a network of Historic Environment Records (HERs) across the United Kingdom. Formerly known as the Cambridgeshire Sites and Monuments Record, we are continuously expanding the record to include information relating to all aspects of the historic environment. In particular, we are incorporating information about historic buildings and settlements, parks and gardens of historic interest, industrial and twentieth century remains.

We currently have over 20,000 records concerning archaeological monuments, chance finds, buildings and past fieldwork in Cambridgeshire. These are held on a computerised database and mapping system, where they can be easily searched by date, location and type of remains. Much of the information on the CHER is now available online via the Heritage Gateway.

The Cambridgeshire Historic Environment Record is a public record, and we welcome enquiries from anyone with an interest in Cambridgeshire's past.

Enquiries can be made by any the following methods:

- telephone;
- email;
- letter;
- visit to our offices in Cambridge by prior appointment

We will endeavour to deal with your enquiry within 10 working days. Please help us deal with your enquiry efficiently by letting us know:

- the area you are interested in, for example parish or National Grid Reference with search radius;
- the period you are enquiring about, for example Bronze Age or Late Medieval;
- the type of site or find you are interested in, for example Roman villa or Bronze Age hoards; and
- the purpose for which you will be using the information, for example local history study, undergraduate research, desk-based assessment.

Within Cambridgeshire's modern landscape lie the remains of thousands of years of human activity. These archaeological remains, together with the vestiges of former landscapes, are the key to understanding the county's past. They are a fragile, vulnerable and irreplaceable part of the local environment. We maintain the Historic Environment Record (HER) for the county (formerly the Sites and Monuments Record or SMR). See our section on the CHER for more information.

Archives from investigative fieldwork in Cambridgeshire are curated by us, to enable access by researchers whilst being maintained for future generations. Guidelines for organisations wishing to deposit archaeological archives at the store are available from our website. Our Planning and Countryside Advice archaeologists work to mitigate the impact of land use change on Cambridgeshire's rich archaeological heritage, ensuring its sustainability and long term conservation for future generations.

We are the advisory service for the Local Planning Authorities, developers and their agents on the potential impact of land use change on archaeology and the historic environment. We can also advise on environmental enhancement projects, agricultural stewardship schemes and the care of ancient monuments and historic landscapes. We also host the Portable Antiquities Scheme for Cambridgeshire, which provides a finds identification service for the public and advice about the Treasure Act as part of a wider programme of outreach and public archaeology. See our section on the Portable Antiquities Scheme for more information.

The Historic Environment Team also delivers public archaeology and outreach projects in Cambridgeshire. For many years Cambridgeshire Archaeology has been one of the country's leading exponents of public archaeology. It actively promotes education and community projects, with the key aim of increasing understanding of the rich heritage of the county. See our section on outreach for more information.

The Portable Antiquities Scheme is a national programme hosted by Cambridgeshire County Council for Cambridgeshire and Peterborough, which assists with the recording of finds discovered by members of the public. The scheme aims to help finders have their objects identified and recorded, as well as providing specialist advice on conservation and storage. The finds are recorded centrally on a national database, which can be accessed on the online database available here <http://finds.org.uk>.

The Finds Liaison Officer also works at Peterborough Museum one day a week. Finds can be brought for identification to any of the following:

- finds identification events at local museums (see events leaflet for details);
- by prior appointment with the Finds Liaison Officer, at the Cambridgeshire Historic Environment Record or at Peterborough Museum on Fridays.

Some of the objects that are brought to us fall within the definition of Treasure under the Treasure Act (1996), which provides museums with the opportunity to acquire finds made of gold or silver, or hoards of coins and prehistoric tools. East Anglia has more Treasure Act finds than any other part of the country, and we can provide advice on the process.

The Portable Antiquities Scheme operates in partnership with the British Museum, Cambridgeshire County Council and Vivacity (Peterborough's Cultural Trust). For all discoveries of gold and silver objects, or groups of coins from the same findspot, which are over 300 years old, you have a legal obligation to report such items under the Treasure Act (1996). Prehistoric base-metal assemblages found after 1st January 2003 also now qualify as Treasure. The website also provides further information for finders of potential Treasure.

The Ely and District Archaeological Society, (EDAS), was founded in 1980. The object of the Society is 'to advance the education of the public in their study of archaeology, history and kindred subjects'. EDAS promotes this through: a programme of lectures between October and May, visits to sites of archaeological or historical interest, and collecting and disseminating information about archaeology and history of the local area.

Meetings: Held on the 3rd Monday in the month, (between October and May), at the Methodist Church Hall, Chapel Street, Ely. The lectures deal mainly with local and regional archaeology or history, and include presentation of recent discoveries. There are also talks about archaeological sites or history in a broader context.

Membership: Individual £8, Joint £14, Student £1, Visitors £2.50 per lecture.

Information about Membership and the future Programme is available from the Treasurer.

Oxford Archaeology East was founded in 2008 and was formerly the Cambridgeshire County Council Archaeological Field Unit, (CAMARC/AFU). OA East is part of Oxford archaeology (OA) however it remains a local archaeological unit and carries on working predominantly in Cambridgeshire and East Anglia. OA East continues to work closely with Cambridgeshire County Council and OA East works directly with the Cambridgeshire County Council Archaeology Office to deliver education, outreach and community archaeology for Cambridgeshire.

Oxford Archaeology East and Cambridgeshire County Council are joint partners in Jigsaw, a project funded by the Heritage Lottery Fund. Jigsaw – “piecing together Cambridgeshire’s past” – trains and supports the establishment of new local archaeology action groups, as well as established societies and individuals, to carry out their own community archaeology projects in Cambridgeshire. The project is due to end in autumn 2016, however OAE is committed to support the Jigsaw Network of Archaeology groups and community archaeology projects into the future.

OA East is a Registered Organisation (RO) with the Chartered Institute for Archaeologists (CIfA) and has a proven track record of carrying out high quality archaeological work in a competitive market place. Oxford Archaeology has a long track record of undertaking archaeological projects and is Britain’s largest archaeological contractor. Oxford Archaeology is a Registered Educational Charity, and offers archaeological opportunities not only in Britain but in Europe and beyond.

The Trust was founded in 1983 to provide financial assistance to the churches of Cambridgeshire when they undertake repairs to the fabric, fixtures, furniture and ornaments of their historic churches and chapels, or projects to improve facilities. The Trust makes grants and interest free loans from its funds to allow work to be undertaken without delay and to provide a cash flow for larger scale projects and since its inception has awarded over two million pounds in loans. The Trust's main fund raising event is the Annual Sponsored Ride, Drive and Stride, which takes place in September. The continuing success of this event is crucial to the amount of funds available to be distributed to the historic churches of Cambridgeshire.

Membership benefits include the Newsletters in spring and autumn. There is an Annual Conference held on a Saturday in March, April or early May with a theme related to the history, architecture, and artistic heritage of church buildings and their furnishings, with particular reference to Cambridgeshire. In the summer a programme of visits to churches is offered free of charge. Details of these are announced in the Newsletters and posted on the website. Programme enquiries may be directed to the Hon. Secretary.

Our society has 500 members and works with all layers of local government to conserve and preserve our heritage. We started out over 40 years ago with the intention of stopping a planned bypass planned to go over the Hemingford Meadow by the banks of the River Great Ouse. This planned route would have adversely affected the large and beautiful meadow. Our campaign was successful and the meadow remains intact.

More recently we have campaigned against unnecessary developments in the town centre which would have led to the relocation of Oliver Cromwell's statue and the War Memorial. We then went on to raise funds for the restoration of the War Memorial and have it recorded as a Grade 2 Listed Monument. This means it cannot be moved to accommodate the notions of Planners.

Our other projects have included the installation of Information Boards and building plaques throughout the town in co-operation with Town Council.

Currently we are working on saving the heritage lighting in the town centre and finding a use for the old cattle market Octagon building which has been refurbished following appeals to the District Council.

Our Legacy Statement is "that future generations will be able to easily recognise the historic character and heritage of our town despite the inevitable changes that have happened down the years"

We are a civic society for the market town of March and were founded in 2007. We are involved in the promotion and conservation of March. We have monthly meetings with speakers to talk on subjects related to the past, present or future of March.

Our aims are to: support the preservation, protection, development and improvement of features of historic or public interest; inform the public in the geography, history, natural history and architecture of March; promote high standards of planning and architecture; and to promote civic pride in March. We work together with local authorities, voluntary organisations and people with similar aims to The March Society. Amongst our future plans: heritage and audit walks, to continue to compile a list of Buildings of Local Interest, local visits and exhibitions of photographs of March. If you would like to join us, come to our monthly meetings featured on the home page of our website, on our The March Society Facebook page, The March Society Group Facebook page, or Twitter, or fill in the form on our website and we will contact you

Meetings: 19.00 – 21.00, on the second Wednesday of the month, in March Library. We have heritage walks in May and August.

The Society is a local civic and amenity voluntary group, financed by membership subscriptions. We seek to provide independent views on civic, amenity and environmental matters in Peterborough and the surrounding area. We seek to encourage public and local authorities to value and care for the local heritage of buildings and other features of historical and environmental interest and to promote local knowledge and pride of place. This is particularly important in our expanding and developing city, whose residents are comparatively new to our area.

We publish an Annual Report, giving details of the previous year's activities, and a quarterly Newsletter, giving an update on current activities. We run a programme of talks during the winter months and a series of summer visits. Our projects are varied, the latest being a full-colour hard-back book celebrating the architectural details of the buildings of the Peterborough area entitled Peterborough and its Villages in Detail. It is available via the Society's web-site.

Membership: £11 per individual, £6 per junior or senior citizen, £17 per couple or family including children under 18, £10 per senior citizen couple, £5 per primary school, £10 per secondary school, £35 per corporate and £130 per corporate for five years.

Our autumn / winter talks are held monthly at St. Mark's Church Hall, Lincoln Road, Peterborough, (next to St Mark's Church), at 19:30 and non-members are welcome to attend.

Our extensive collection of archive material, photographs, and postcards has been collected over many years. The main aim of the group is to collect or scan as many photographs and postcards of the village as possible, as well as to record and transcribe historical documents, deeds, wills, etc. We are always keen to see and, if possible, scan pictures or documents relating to any aspect of Balsham. Members of the Balsham History Group and the Linton and District Community Archive Group have been digitising and adding many of the Balsham images to the Linton and District Community Archive Group web pages.

Work this year has focused on developing plans for the new archives accommodation at Ely. The building has now been acquired by the County Council and construction work is scheduled to begin during 2016. In the meantime archives staff are working hard on repackaging and barcoding the items in Shire Hall's basement in preparation for the move. When complete in 2017 the Ely centre will provide, for the first time for Shire Hall's records, archives accommodation which meets all modern professional standards.

Due to the need to make substantial savings in the budget, and following a public consultation earlier in the year, we have made changes to the staffing and to the opening hours at both of the archive offices and at the Cambridgeshire Collection. We have also lost many highly respected former members of staff, who will be much missed. Caroline Clifford, formerly based at Huntingdon Library, is now Local Studies Librarian for the entire county. Archives and Local Studies are now no longer a single service, but we will continue to work as closely together as possible, to deliver the best possible service to all our users, and we are very grateful to the support we have been given by our many volunteers and stakeholders.

Much has been achieved over the year despite the budgetary pressures. The local studies team carried out an HLF-funded project to provide resource packs for Cambridgeshire schools, and both archives and local studies staff have created well-publicized exhibitions to mark the Queen's 90th birthday and the 200th anniversary of the Littleport riots.

Amongst important collections received during 2016 are additional records of the Hinchingsbrooke Estate and the Earls of Sandwich 1865-1975, which are in the process of being catalogued at Huntingdonshire Archives. At the beginning of the year we received minutes and newsletters of the Cambridge Campaign for Homosexual Equality and the Cambridge Gay Group for the 1970s-1990s, which complement other LGBT records we received last year. St Neots Museum kindly transferred a variety of written materials to us in May, including Southoe Manor minute book from 1813, and we are grateful to the Cambridgeshire Family History Society for their continued support, such as the recently acquired deeds of former public houses in the Isle of Ely.

Celebrating its 10th year in 2016, Cambridgeshire Community Archive Network, (CCAN), continues to grow with well over 50,000 entries of photographs, video and audio recordings – all available online.

This year CCAN is working in partnership with Cambridge County Council on a project to create a digital memorial to commemorate the Cambridgeshire soldiers who tragically died on the 1st July 1916 in the Battle of the Somme. The memorial will be available on the CCAN Great War website from the 1st July, and will be built upon through to December 2016. The project will involve local people – CCAN members, families and local historians in researching and sharing information on the Cambridgeshire soldiers who died in the battle.

The easy-to-use software is designed by Community Sites, one of the largest providers of Community Archives in the country. It is especially tailored to community heritage, full of features, it even enables visitors to the site to contribute entries and add comments to existing records.

New members are always welcome & training is organised locally by committee members.

The Group collects photos and films of scenes, events and people for the present town of St. Neots, the surrounding villages and Buckden. The photos are added to the St Neots Community Archive Website which is part of the Cambridge Community Archive Network (CCAN). Photographs are taken weekly of changing shops and events in the town and are added regularly. Access is free.

The group holds regular small displays of photos throughout the year and local archive films at various places within the town and at local events. The Group has strong links with the St. Neots Museum, the St Neots Local History Forum, the St. Neots Local History Group, the Eatons Community Association, St Neots University of the Third Age and the Colmworth and Neighbours History Association.

Committee meetings are generally held monthly at the St. Neots Museum.

There is no regular programme of talks but photograph displays and film shows are arranged to fit in with local events and are advertised in the local newspapers. 2016-2017 exhibitions and events are being planned with local groups for the annual beer festival, ongoing war commemorations and town events. Talks showing film archives, old and new photographs are regularly given to local groups of all ages. To arrange talks please contact Website Manager.

The Society exists to encourage the study of family history within the old counties of Cambridge and the Isle of Ely. It offers a friendly point of contact for people world-wide who are interested in the same names and families and also provides a wide range of facilities to support their researches into genealogy and the local area. The Society was founded in 1976 and now has well over 1,300 members, mainly in the UK but also in Australia, New Zealand, Canada and the USA. Membership is open to anyone with an interest in family history. Members are entitled to participate in any of the Society's activities and they receive a free quarterly journal, together with a Members' Interests Directory which is updated at intervals.

Huntingdonshire Family History Society (HFHS) was founded in 1985 to help people to find out about their family history. It aims to provide links between people interested in families of the old County of Huntingdonshire and to provide a forum for persons interested in genealogy generally, both the beginner and the experienced genealogist. The society has an active programme for transcribing parish registers and monumental inscriptions and publishing them. Our journal The Huntsman is published three times a year. The Society is a member of Federation of Family History Societies and is a supporter of the Genealogy UK and Ireland (GENUKI) information service.

Meetings: Lectures are held on the 3rd Wednesday of the month, (September – July), at 19:30 at The W.I. Centre, Walden Road, (The Ring Road), Huntingdon, Cambs, PE29 3AZ. There is also a bookstall with a wide range of genealogical and local history publications. Our talks are occasionally subject to change. Please check our website before making a special journey.

Abington History Group

Chairman

34 High Street, Little Abington, Cambridge CB21 6BG

Tel: 01223 893352 Email: jennifer@hirsh.com

The group, founded in 2000, exists to research the history of the villages of Great and Little Abington and to share their findings with those who are interested. A database of parish and census records has been built up together with a large collection of images, mainly photographs both old and recent. References to land and people from other historical sources are also added to a database. We hold copies of a collection of maps of the villages dating back to 1603.

The group has published village history trails for both villages as well as an award-winning book entitled World War 2 Memories of Abington and Abington People. In addition we have worked on the sale of the Abington Hall Estate; we conduct oral history interviews and research university and college archives seeking more information on early land ownership. Another completed project resulted in the publication of Memories of the Land Settlement in Abington 1936 to 1983. We have shown DVDs of 1980 Village Revues to audiences many of whom were in the original productions.

In 2014 we researched World War 1 connections to the Abingtons and put on a display, a lecture and a showing of films in the Abington Institute in October. The display dealt both with those from the Abingtons who served in WW1 and with ancestors of current villagers who served.

In 2013 we produced Aspects of Abington History – a collection of nine articles and in 2015 followed this up with Aspects of Abington History 2 - this time containing ten articles on Abington history.

We are always keen to see and, if possible, scan pictures or documents relating to any aspect of Great and Little Abington history.

The Association was founded in 1951 as the Cambridgeshire Local History Council. Ten years ago, it was decided to change our name to the Cambridgeshire Association for Local History, (CALH), to re-emphasise the organisation's founding principles and to highlight its important role of caring for the future of Cambridgeshire's past. The main object of the Association is to encourage and support the study of local and social history in Cambridgeshire, in particular by encouraging the many local groups sharing this aim.

Corporate membership of the Association by local and social history clubs, groups and societies, or any other organisation with similar aims is strongly encouraged, as the CALH acts as a representative body for such organisations. The Association always endeavours to act as an information and networking hub for local history in Cambridgeshire.

The CALH holds a popular spring conference, with a strong local history theme. The Local History Awards, made annually, recognise the contributions to local history in the County made by authors in the previous year, and by individuals' life-time commitment to Cambridgeshire history. There is also an award, (CYPHA), for young people, (individually or collectively), who have carried out a local history project. The presentation Ceremony is a great occasion to hear from and meet authors and historians and to learn about their work.

The Association produces publications and services for members. These include the annual Review, a publication of original articles on local history researches and reviews, and an online historical newsletter, the Bulletin, produced twice a year. Members may also receive a copy of the Conduit, this annual listing of local history societies, museums and similar interest groups and their programmes for the forthcoming year. (Conduit is also available online.)

The CALH also circulates, by email, news of its programme and other upcoming events to every other society, group, or club in the county via a central email distribution. It also keeps all the county's societies up-to-date with national and local news.

Meetings: Normally held on first Saturday of the month, starting at 14:15, at the St John's Hall, Blinco Grove, off Hills Road, Cambridge CB2 8RN. Outings and visits are also arranged, usually in the summer months.

Membership: Individuals £8; Families £10; Affiliated local societies or groups £10. Entry to meetings is free for individual and family members, £1 for members of affiliated societies and £2.50 for guests & non-members.

The Association also has a Facebook page, which supplements the information sent by email.

Meetings: 19.30 on the fourth Monday of each month, (Except May – August), in Covington Village Hall. An outline programme for the year ahead is agreed at the AGM, held during the September meeting.

Membership: There is no membership fee. Meetings are £4 for residents (with discount for bulk booking) and £5 for visitors.

CHG is dedicated to finding out what it was like to live in Covington in the past. Our activities include archaeology, record office research, talks, outings and the collection of reminiscences. We have produced a Covington History Trail, a Church History Leaflet and a Guide to the Archaeology of Covington. This year we will be publishing a history of Covington School. For the past five years we have been part of Jigsaw (Cambridgeshire) and we have just completed our own Sharing Heritage funded archaeology project. Site reports have been uploaded to the Archaeological Data Service and are also available on our website. It is hoped this year to produce pages for the website on aspects of village history, to complement those on our archaeological activities.

The association was founded in 1978 as the Eaton Socon Community Association and was later changed to the Eatons Community Association to include both Eaton Socon and Eaton Ford, both now suburbs in the town of St Neots. We promote activities within the Eatons, write history books and hold an annual history exhibition, (1st weekend in May in St Mary's Church, Eaton Socon), at our popular May Day weekend, (May Day celebrations on Eaton Socon Village Green -1st Monday in May). There is an Open Gardens event during June, and we open our church and unique village lock-up regularly during the summer. Talks and walks can be arranged around the village through the chairman. We also have a newsletter delivered free to all houses in the Eatons three times a year, as well as being available on the Eatons website. We do not hold talks/lectures but we do liaise with nearby history and archive groups and work with them in various projects.

We now hold a large archive relating to Eaton Socon Parish, which was in Bedfordshire until 1965, and have written more than 30 history booklets on a variety of subjects. As part of a very large project we researched all the buildings and their families within the present areas of Eaton Socon and Eaton Ford from the enclosure in 1799 to 1965. Most of Eaton Socon archives are held in Bedford archives but our booklets are available in Bedford and Huntingdon archives, local libraries, St Neots Museum and in local schools. They can be bought from ESCA. We have 4 trails, 8 Heritage Boards and 15 blue plaques in the Eatons. There are no membership fees. We raise money at our May Day celebrations, other events and through writing history booklets. Committee meetings are held monthly.

Our War Memorial has been researched and the information produced in a book. During 2014 we produced an exhibition and a book showing what life was like in the parish during the Great War. The local newspaper - St Neots Advertiser – has been indexed for the War Years, covers the present town of St Neots and many local villages, and is freely available on the St Neots Local History Website – www.stneotslhs.org.uk. The Eatons Community Association has its own website where information on its history books, and events can be found. Many local archives are freely accessible on the site.

The Group was founded in Oct 2014 to try to gather together all the local history information and memories of past times in the village before they were lost. From August 2015 – August 2016 the Group successfully carried out an 'Exploring Harston's Heritage' project with the aid of a Sharing Heritage Lottery Fund grant, sharing findings with those living in Harston and anyone else with an interest in Harston's History by having displays and talks on various Harston History topics. A Harston History website was launched in November 2015 and we continue to add material to it, including local memories of Harston. We soon aim to complete a self-guided village trail and a permanent Heritage interpretation board on The Green.

On the first Saturday of each month some Members will be at the Fair Trade Better Brew Café in Harston Village Hall 10.30-12.30 alongside a display of local history. All are welcome to come along.

Meetings: Usually monthly, but talks will be advertised on the website events section.

The society exists to encourage, share and enjoy the history of Huntingdonshire. Lectures are organised in the winter, a weekend away in May and other excursions in the summer. The society publishes a newsletter (Huntingdonshire Local History Almanack) twice a year and an occasional journal, Records of Huntingdonshire. The next issue of Records will be published in October. It will include articles on Virginia Ferrar, Archbishop Sancroft's Visitation, Jarvis Matcham, the Leman Baronetcy and St Edward's Home, Huntingdon. Copies of the current issue are available price £3.00 from Huntingdonshire Archives and the St Neots Museum and of all society publications (various prices) at meetings (or contact the chairman).

Goodliff Awards Scheme

The society's Goodliff Awards Scheme provides funding to individuals, societies, schools and groups who need support for a project, research, publication or preservation of heritage of Huntingdonshire history. For further details email goodliff.awards@gmail.com. Forms can be found on the society's website. The deadline for applications is 31 March 2017. Awards are announced at the AGM.

Are you interested in local or landscape history? Are you doing, or considering, your own research? Would you enjoy an occasional meeting of like-minded people? The Landscape and Local History Group (LLHG) is a meeting place for active researchers, those who have been active or maybe hope to be. Many members are working on topics or places in the local area; others are researching further afield. This very informal group meets three or four times a year. Members share research findings, exchange ideas and information, and increase their knowledge of the range of records and resources available. Please contact the coordinator for more information, to get your name onto the email mailing list, or to get directions. New members are very welcome.

Meetings: 19:15 at Anglia Ruskin University, East Road, Cambridge – normally in Helmore Room 251.

Membership: Free to those on the email list. Very occasional small fee to cover costs.

The Longstanton and District Heritage Society was founded by local residents in 2007 to record the history of Longstanton and Oakington villages, RAF Oakington and Oakington Barracks. Faced with the imminent disappearance of their rural villages, due to the development of Northstowe, locals decided to create a record of what went before. LDHS members include existing, and former, residents and former service personnel living throughout the UK and abroad. LDHS is dedicated to recording a shared history and making it available for public enjoyment and education. The Society continues to monitor the Northstowe development and lobby the developers, local government and others to help to protect the site's heritage via the establishment of a heritage centre/museum on the former RAF Oakington site. Already 9 out of 10 of the rare "Oakington" pillboxes associated with RAF Oakington have been given Grade 2 listed status as a result of the work of the society.

LDHS members enjoy an annual newsletter summarising the work of the society. The LDHS website provides both members, and non-members, with free world-wide access to information and samples of an ever growing archive. A new addition this year has seen the creation of a Facebook page which has proved to be really beneficial for the society and its members.

Members and non-members are encouraged to contact the society at any time. The society is always grateful to receive additional information, memories and photographs of the existing villages and the airfield. New members with an interest in the villages or Oakington airfield/barracks are encouraged, and all members are welcome to get involved with our work. There is much to be done and more help is always needed if we are to fully realize our full potential.

Meetings: 19:30 on the first Friday of the month in the Village Institute, High Street, Longstanton. Details of these talks and other events can be found on our website, on our Facebook page or in the local village magazines. Alternatively, information can be sent out via e mail on request.

Entry for visitors is £2 and light refreshments are served afterwards.

Meldreth Local History Group is a community group and was formed in 2007. Its aims are to record and research the history of the village and its environs, create an archive of local history which can be passed on to future generations and to publish material, both in print and digital forms. The group has its own website and is also part of the Cambridgeshire Community Archives Network (CCAN). The Group does not have a regular programme of lectures but organises, or is involved in, several events each year.

Meetings: 09.30 – 11.30 every Monday (excluding bank holidays) at the Sheltered Housing Community Room, Elin Way, Meldreth. These are not talks, but are meetings to discuss and continue the work of the Group. For example, we update our website and discuss/work on other projects. Anyone who wishes to help the Group or to bring along photographs or other material is welcome to attend.

Membership: Free. Membership enquiries should be addressed to the Chairman.

The Society was founded in 1933, as the Saffron Walden Antiquarian Society. Its name was changed to the Saffron Walden Historical Society in 1983, as it was felt that this most accurately reflected its activities.

The Society publishes the Saffron Walden Historical Journal, with articles on the town and the surrounding villages, twice a year, in the spring and autumn. Recently, SWHS Publications has been established by the Society, to help authors publish research on Saffron Walden and north-west Essex. There are now four books in the series, the most recent being Chepyng Walden by Dr Elizabeth Allan. This is an important new study of late medieval Walden.

Meetings: 19:45 at the Friends' Meeting House, High Street, Saffron Walden on the fourth Wednesday of the month from September to May, when a programme of talks is arranged.

Membership: £7. Visitors welcome at £2.00 per session.

Now in our 40th year, the Society was founded in 1976 with the title, 'Sawtry & District Archaeological Society which then became Sawtry and District Archaeological & History Society. After a long spell, the 'Archaeological' was dropped as members interests changed and the name finally alighted upon was the present 'Sawtry History Society'. We now encompass all history interests, whether it be local or family history, military or ancient and with new members joining, Archaeology has once again, become more popular, and so the History Society joined with Jigsaw, a Cambs based community

Archaeology support group and are pursuing new Archaeology projects such as a Geophysics survey and research of The Sawtry Cistercian Abbey of St Mary, the only Cistercian Abbey site in Cambridgeshire in conjunction with Historic England to find out more about the Abbey and the deserted medieval village of Sawtry Judith.

Over the years, the Society has held several Local History Exhibitions such as the one to commemorate the start of the First World War in 2014 and participated in events such as The 1940's weekend at Holme, the commemoration of the centenary of the death of Edith Cavell in 2015 and the commemoration of the Battle of the Somme in 2016. SHS has undertaken some very useful work, such as surveys of All Saints' Churchyard and St Nicholas' Church, Glatton, all work being carried out by members of the Society, resulting in an index of all the memorials there with their locations as well as maintaining the Sawtry Village Local History Archives, an archival project of paper records that were held by the Society over the years and was completed and opened in February 2013 which is located at Sawtry Library and includes historical material of Sawtry and the surrounding villages of Holme, Conington, Glatton and Coppington. and is available for reference.

We have been contacted by people all over the world, interested in Family History and their ancestors who were born and lived in the Sawtry area and the Society plans to expand our collection of family history information in the future and family history events at our Archive in the local library.

Sawtry History Society also maintains a digital archive of photographs, documents, deeds and other material through the Cambridgeshire Community Archive Network (CCAN) and the Community Archive and Heritage Group as a digital record of local history. We also organize coach trips and local outings of historical interest.

Today, thanks to the hard work of so many of the members, the Society is flourishing, building on all that members have contributed in the past and we look forward to new projects in the future.

The Sawtry Village Local History Archives are located at Sawtry Library on Fen Lane and are open from 10.00 am to 12.00 noon on the last Saturday of the month or on other Saturday mornings by appointment.

Meetings: WI Hall on Gidding Road, the third Thursday of the month at 19.30, except August and December and we welcome new members and visitors to our meetings.

Aims: The Society was founded in Autumn 1975 to stimulate public interest in Whittlesford past, present & future, promote high standards of planning & architecture and secure preservation, protection, development & improvement of features of public or historic interest in the village and the immediate area.

Support: We also support other societies & interest groups with their events if they are in line with the Society's aims. To apply, please contact one of the Committee members listed above.

Journal / Magazine: Whither Whittlesford is published at least twice a year. Various other publications are available in print or on the website.

Events: Guided walks, an annual open meeting / AGM with a notable speaker in April, themed exhibitions, focus days, natural history events & archaeological fieldwork. This year there will be a number of activities continuing to mark the Society's 40th anniversary as well as progress on our current major project – The Whittlesford one hundred & the impact on this village of World War One. In the new year we are planning at least one guided walk or nature trail and an outing to IWM Duxford. Please see the website for more details.

Membership: Open to all residents & people interested in the village.

Members: The Society is particularly interested in encouraging new blood into the membership, especially in the face of a period of growth & change reminiscent of the period when it was founded over forty years ago. We are also interested in hearing from anyone with family connections or interests in the village, especially during / after World War One and – indeed – World War Two.

An amazing family day out – climb the windmill, follow the trails, enjoy the rare vintage vehicles, old schoolroom and village shop, and find out how people lived in Burwell on the edge of the Fens.

The Museum depicts life on the edge of the Cambridgeshire Fens through the centuries. Opened in 1992, it is housed in a collection of different and interesting buildings. Some are reconstructed from other sites, such as the eighteenth-century timber-framed barn, and others are built in the local style using mainly reclaimed materials, such as the wagon sheds / granary display area. Most of the displays are set out as scenes, rather like stage sets, with lots of individual artefacts making each display in order to give visitors a better idea of how, where and when items were used. Also on the site is a Grade II* Listed windmill – Stevens' Mill – which has recently undergone a Lottery Funded restoration. Guided tours of the mill available at no extra cost.

Open: 11am - 5pm Sundays, Thursdays and Bank Holiday Mondays from Easter Sunday to the end of October. Pre-booked group visits are welcome any day – daytime or evening. The Museum is closed from the start of November to just before Easter.

Admission: £4 per adult, (over 16 years), £2 per child, (3 – 16 years), Season ticket holders and under 3's are free.

Season Tickets: £15 – Individual, £20 – Joint, (two adults at same address), £25 – Family, (two adults and up to three children at same address), and allow free admission to the Museum on any regular open day, including special event days, and is valid for an entire open season, (Easter Sunday to the end of October). They are available from the Museum admission kiosk.

The Museum has extensive collections relating to world prehistory and archaeology of the Cambridge region, plus anthropology from all parts of the world. The collections and their associated photographic and archival material are of outstanding research and historical value and are an important national resource in archaeology and anthropology.

The Museum's education programmes offer a variety of public activities throughout the year, as well as teaching and resources for primary and secondary schools. In addition, there are special events relating to exhibitions and activities in some school holidays.

Open: Tuesday – Saturday 10:30 – 16:30; Sunday 12:00 – 16:30

Closed: 1 week at Christmas and on all bank holidays.

Admission: Free.

On display at MAA until the 29th January 2017 is 'Hide and Seek: Looking for Children in the Past'. This exhibition is a collaborative project between MAA and Cambridgeshire County Council, funded by the Heritage Lottery Fund.

Children outnumbered adults for most of human history, yet they rarely appear in the stories that museums tell. A past without children is incomplete. This exhibition aims to redress the balance.

For more information, please see the project website: www.hideandseekexhibition.org.uk/

Events:

Talks, workshops and special events take place throughout the year. There are usually drop-in activities for families in October half term, for Twilight at the Museums in February, for Cambridge Science Festival in March and at various other times through the year. Please see the website for details.

Archaeology Development Manager Sarah Wilson

Managed by Vivacity, Peterborough Cultural & Leisure Trust, Flag Fen is the most significant Bronze Age archaeological site in northern Europe. The site is based around the incredible remains of a prehistoric causeway discovered by Dr. Francis Pryor in 1982. Dating to c1350BC, the causeway was constructed of some 60,000 trees, cut down over a century to build a post alignment over a kilometer in length with an artificial island half way across, the size of a football stadium. Flag Fen is also home to a conservation facility in which the Must Farm boats, a remarkable collection of 3,500 year old log boats, are available to view daily. As well as the preserved timbers, the site features a museum of finds, (including England's oldest wheel), recreated period buildings, a visitor centre, a shop and a café. A programme of events and activities takes place over the year, as well as an onsite educational programme. Please check our website for more details.

Open: April – September Daily 10:00 – 17:00, (Last admission 16:00)

Closed: October – March, (except for pre-booked groups and school parties)

Admission: £6.00 Adults, £4 Concessions, (Under 5s free), £18 Families, (Up to 2 Adults & up to 3 Children over 5). Increased admission charges apply on special event days.

Managed by Vivacity, Peterborough Cultural & Leisure Trust on behalf of English Heritage, Longthorpe Tower is a very well preserved example of a solar tower, built around 1300, containing the private apartments of the owner of a fortified manor house. It boasts the finest medieval domestic wall paintings in Western Europe. This varied 'spiritual encyclopaedia' of worldly and religious subjects provides a window into the medieval mind and includes the Wheel of 5 senses, the 'three living and three dead', the Nativity and King David.

The Tower has a hands-on exhibition which explains the story of the building, paintings and Thorpe family, as well as exciting weekend events. Please check our website for more details.

Open: April – October inclusive: Saturdays, Sundays & Bank Holiday Mondays 10.00 – 17.00 (last admission 4.30pm)

Pre-booked groups and school parties are welcome outside of these hours all year round.

The March Museum was established in 1972, and is staffed entirely by a dedicated band of volunteers. The museum has a fascinating collection of local memorabilia, including several tableaux illustrating late nineteenth and early twentieth-century domestic life. The medals (including the George Cross) awarded to Benjamin Gimbert following the train explosion at Soham in June 1944 are the focus of displays on the central role played by the railway in the town's history, together with the nameplates from the two Class 47 locomotives named in honour of the driver and fireman. Also on display is the unique banner representing the March branch of the ASLEF Union. A wide range of historical documents, including rate books, are available for those researching local or family history, along with an extensive collection of photographs showing Fenland life through the years. In addition, the Museum Society runs a series of regular talks and special exhibitions.

The Museum of Classical Archaeology is often referred to as one of Cambridge’s hidden gems: cross the Silver Street Bridge, walk under the leafy canopy of Sidgwick Avenue and you’ll discover us nestled in the Faculty of Classics on the Sidgwick Site. Founded in 1884, the Museum houses one of the world’s largest collections of plaster casts of Greek and Roman statues. These casts – some of them well over two hundred years old, others not yet ten – deserve not to be written off as mere copies but are historical objects in their own right.

Open:

10:00 – 17:00 Monday – Friday

10:00 – 13:00 Saturdays (University term time only)

For Christmas and Easter closures, please consult the website.

Admission: Free

Events: We organise a range of events for adults and families. Events are normally free of charge and all are welcome. For up-to-date listings, please consult our website.

Group Bookings: Why not contact us to arrange a group visit? We are happy to organise tours and activities for adult and community groups. We also provide an education service for schools and younger visitors. To arrange a school visit or find out more, please email the Group Bookings email address, above.

The Norris Museum displays the archaeology and history of what was the County of Huntingdonshire. It is set in a picturesque riverside garden in the centre of St Ives. The museum was founded by Herbert Norris who left his lifetime's collection of Huntingdonshire relics to the people of St Ives when he died in 1931.

The museum also has an extensive library and archive. The collections are listed by type on our website. Living history days, craft workshops, tours for adults and children's holiday activities are just some of the fun events that are held all year round.

This year, The Norris Museum is undergoing an exciting £1.4 million redevelopment and is therefore closed until Summer 2017. During this time the museum calendar will be alive with events, activities, workshops and activities taking place across Huntingdonshire. The museum also offers a varied programme of talks and town tours. If you would like the museum to be at your event contact Hannah Vandridge. To find out where the museum is going to be visit our Facebook page.

The museum has a strong group of Friends as well as an ever-growing number of volunteers who help the museum in a variety of ways.

Managed by Vivacity, Peterborough's Culture & Leisure Trust, the Museum covers the history of Peterborough and its surrounding area. Collections include internationally important collections of geology, (including Jurassic sea monsters), and Napoleonic POW work related to the camp at Norman Cross as well as social history and art. The archaeology collection includes finds and information from all periods, which reflect the archaeological importance and diversity of the Peterborough area. The Museum has varied temporary exhibitions, exciting events and a busy education programme. Please check the website for more details.

The Museum is located in a historically significant Georgian building which has been restored as part of a £3M refurbishment, including the restoration and reopening of a rare Victorian operating theatre dating to the period when the building was the city infirmary.

Situated underneath Melbourn Street, close to the Roys Stone, the Cave is owned by Royston Town Council and is a Grade 1 archaeological site overseen by English Heritage. It is a medieval, man made structure hewn out of the chalk, lost and then rediscovered in 1742. During 1790 a passageway into the Cave was dug out. This allowed visitors to see the unique medieval style carvings that now bring visitors from all over the world. Since 1996 much conservation work has been carried out with the help of grants from English Heritage, Hertfordshire County Council, the Town Council and the Royston and District Local History Society. The Cave is managed by volunteers from the Royston and District Local History Society (see their entry) on behalf of Royston Town Council with the aim of preserving the Cave for future generations whilst ensuring limited and controlled access. The Royston Cave Trust is a registered charity working towards the same goals, currently with English Heritage who part-funded a recent programme of conservation works.

Open: Saturday, Sunday & Bank Holidays, (Easter Saturday to end September), 14.30 – 17.00, (last entry 16.30). The Cave is also open for the same hours every Wednesday in August.

Private tours for interested parties can be arranged. A candlelight opening is usually offered in September and December. Please see the website for details nearer the time.

Entry is by guided tour only. Tours are at approximately 14:30, 15:10, 15:50 and 16:30 and only 18 people are allowed down at any one time. During busy times, visitors may have to wait till the next tour starts. Please check the website for more details.

Admission: Adults (16 plus) £5; 60 or over £4; accompanied children (5-15) £1.00; under 5s free. No unaccompanied children.

Soham Museum is a living history museum currently working towards premises. Established in 1998, the museum is renowned for its dynamic outreach programme. An excellent variety of local and social history talks, events and activities are held at venues across Soham throughout the year.

Soham Museum runs Soham History Group which hosts an interesting programme of bi-monthly talks at Berrycroft Church Hall to which all are welcome (membership details below).

Soham Local & Family History Group is a study group that publishes an annual journal of new research and meets for six weeks each term at Soham Library. New members and relevant local articles for publication are welcome. The group is free to join and refreshments are provided.

Archaeology Cambridgeshire East (ACE) was formed as a sub-group of Soham Museum in 2014 under the umbrella of the HLF Jigsaw project that establishes active local archaeology groups. ACE meets at Soham Library on the last Saturday of each month 10-12am and is free to join.

Soham Museum Coffee Mornings are a free, informal, popular and vibrant 'drop in' session held on the first Saturday of each month at Soham Library 10-12am to which guests can bring along items of local and social interest and generally share a love of history with likeminded people.

Our current interests are Soham Pubs and Breweries, Soham in the 1950s, Soham People, Soham Mere and associated inland waterways, as well as local trade and commerce. We are always interested to hear from people who would like to share new information with us, and guarantee you a warm welcome at any of our events.

Membership: Friends of Soham Museum supports Soham History Group membership and runs from 1st January annually from January 2017. £10.00 per annum per individual. £15 per annum for same household membership. Guests £2.50 although many events are free. All welcome.

Please check our website for details of future events or e-mail us if you would like to book a speaker.

Soham Museum has no association with Soham Heritage & Tourism.

The Stained Glass Museum is the only museum dedicated to stained glass in the UK. Housed in the South Triforium of Ely Cathedral, the gallery contains over one hundred examples of the finest British and continental stained glass, from the Middle Ages through to the 21st century. The Stained Glass Museum Trust was founded in 1972 to rescue and preserve stained glass from redundant buildings.

The Museum's exhibits include a late-eighteenth century panel copied from a portrait by the artist Sir Joshua Reynolds. Also on display is work by Morris and Co. Important examples of 20th century stained glass include artworks by Evie Hone, Harry Clarke, John Piper, Patrick Reyntiens and Brian Clarke.

The Museum opened to the public in 1979, and today it offers a unique insight into the fascinating story of stained glass, an art-form that has been practised in Britain for at least thirteen hundred years. The Museum also has a specialist reference library, open to the public via prior appointment.

Open: Monday – Saturday 10.30 – 17.00
Sunday 12.00 – 16.30

Admission: Adults £4.50, Concessions, (full-time students and over-60s), £3.50. Children under 16 accompanied by an adult free. Art Fund members free.

Group visits are welcome and receive a discounted admission price – please enquire for guided tours.

Exhibitions & events: The Museum holds temporary exhibitions throughout the year. Regular events include an Annual study weekend in April, Annual Lecture in July in London and a series of Autumn Lectures in Ely. Additional events throughout the year. Please see our website for more information. There are explorer packs and activities for children in the gallery.

The object of the Society is to encourage interest in, and knowledge of, the local and natural history of the village and parish of Thorney, and to maintain the Museum for the interest and education of local people and visitors. The Society was founded in 1985, and opened the Museum in 1987. We organise events during the year for those interested in Thorney to meet each other, and also to raise money to support the Museum. We have an increasing involvement in local archaeological work, and are delighted to welcome pre-booked groups for tours of the medieval abbey, Victorian model village and Museum. Information about membership and the future programme is available from the Museum.

The AGM is held in the spring and other meetings are held occasionally. Please check the website for details.

This delightful Museum is one of the first purpose-built Museums in the UK and retains all the charm of its original Victorian design and fittings. It houses the collections of the Wisbech Museum Society, (est.1835), the Library of the Wisbech Literary Society, (est. 1781), and the magnificent bequest of the Rev. Chauncy Hare Townshend which includes the MS of Charles Dickens's Great Expectations. It also has a substantial archive of local government records, manorial records, maps and photographs and is the Diocesan repository for 26 local parishes.

The collections were initiated by the town's Literary and Museum Societies which were formed in 1781 and 1835 respectively. Since the Museum opened in 1847, the collections have continued to grow, but the essence of the Museum remains virtually unchanged. We collect, care for and interpret the natural and cultural heritage of Wisbech and the surrounding Fenland.

Displays range from decorative arts and paintings to archaeology, geology, and local social history. There is an interesting display dedicated to the work of the pioneer anti-slavery campaigner Thomas Clarkson who was born in Wisbech.

There is an active programme of temporary exhibitions and events and facilitates educational opportunities for learning both in the Museum and through outreach to local schools and community groups. We aim to cater for all ages and abilities, and sessions will be tailored to the needs of your group.

Tel: 01223 746262

The Institute of Continuing Education offers a wide range of part-time and short courses for personal or career development in subjects including archaeology, historic environment, history of art and local history. Courses run at our headquarters, Madingley Hall, a 16th-century country house set in eight acres of landscaped gardens. Courses are all taught by experts in their field, and many lead to formal University of Cambridge qualifications.

The Institute will be holding its next Open Day on 1 April 2017.

Courses that may be of interest to members in 2016/17:

Undergraduate Certificates, Diplomas & Advanced Diplomas

These part-time courses are taught at undergraduate level, and offer credit within the national Framework for Higher Education Qualifications (FHEQ). They are designed for researchers, professionals, volunteers, those working with their communities, and anyone with an interest in the field.

Certificate courses are open to all, with no previous academic knowledge or experience required. Diplomas offer the opportunity to study a subject in greater depth, while Advanced Diplomas are research-based courses of supervised independent study.

Certificates and Diplomas are taught over one year, and begin in October. Advanced Diplomas are taught over two years, and begin in November.

- Undergraduate Certificate in Archaeology
- Undergraduate Certificate in History of Art
- Undergraduate Certificate in Local History
- Undergraduate Certificate in the Study of Medieval England – NEW for 2016
- Undergraduate Diploma in Archaeology
- Undergraduate Advanced Diploma in Archaeology
- Undergraduate Advanced Diploma in Historic Environment
- Undergraduate Advanced Diploma in Local History

Master of Studies (MSt) degrees

The Institute offers a small number of MSts, which are part-time Master's degrees taught over two years. The MSt in History offers pathways in British local/regional history and an additional theme (details tbc), and will be open for applications from October 2016.

Short courses

The Institute also offers a range of 1, 2 and 3-day courses throughout the year. Weekend courses run from Friday evening to Sunday lunchtime, and include meals from the Institute's award-winning kitchen. Participants can choose to stay at Madingley Hall for the duration of their course, or attend as a non-resident.

The Haddon Library, a subject library within the University of Cambridge, is an affiliate of Cambridge University Library and located in the University's Department of Archaeology on Downing Street. Cambridge Antiquarian Society, which publishes The Conduit, has very close links with the Department. The Haddon incorporates the CAS library, with its county focus, and in 2014 completed the work of cataloguing that collection online. Many of the Haddon's journals come by exchange with the Proceedings of the Cambridge Antiquarian Society. Institutions associated with the Department include the McDonald Institute for Archaeological Research, the Cambridge University Museum of Archaeology and Anthropology, and the Cambridge Archaeological Unit. The Haddon serves the information needs of them all.

The Haddon offers over 50,000 books and around 30,000 journal volumes, housed on two sites. Photographing of Haddon Library material is permitted (see <http://bit.ly/OrigNJ> for the full policy), and the library has good photocopy/scan/print equipment.

Members of the CAS are entitled to use the Haddon, and others are welcome to do so. Please plan your visit using the library's web site and the online catalogue of libraries in the University of Cambridge, <http://search.lib.cam.ac.uk/>, and contact Haddon staff before your first visit.

The Haddon regularly fields events in Open Cambridge and the University's Alumni Festival. To keep up with Haddon news, see the library's web page, above, its Twitter feed, @haddonlibrary, or its Facebook page <http://on.fb.me/1lBEbnV>.

The McDonald Institute for Archaeological Research in the University of Cambridge was established in 1990 through a generous benefaction from the late Dr D.M. McDonald. The benefaction enabled the University to construct and maintain purpose-built premises for the Institute, which include research rooms and laboratories, together with archive space and a seminar room. The Institute serves as an interdisciplinary hub aiming to provide a shared intellectual home for archaeologists at Cambridge with a programme of seminars, workshops, conferences, publications and research grants as well as laboratory space for a wide range of archaeological research which crosses continents, periods and approaches in its exploration of the diversity of the human past.

There are also usually workshops and conferences held throughout term time, which may be of interest to archaeological groups outside of the University of Cambridge. Details may be found at www.mcdonald.cam.ac.uk/events/mcd-conferences. Prior booking might be required.

Please could any readers who have unwanted back copies of The Conduit send them to Simon Barlow or John Pickles at the Haddon Library, as they need them to fulfil the Society's Legal Deposit obligations and to ensure that both the CAS Library & the Haddon Library have complete sets?

Thanks to your generosity, we now only require copies of the following issues:

2 / 3 / 4 / 6 / 7 (2 Copies) / 8 / 9 / 10 / 11 / 30 (2 Copies)

The postal address for this is:

Cambridge Antiquarian Society
Haddon Library
Downing Street
Cambridge
CB2 3DZ

Many thanks in advance.

Simon J Barlow (CAS Conduit Editor)
John Pickles (CAS Honorary Librarian)
